

Gopal Bhudia

Gopal specialises in conveyancing. He joined Freemans after qualifying as a solicitor in 2001, and became a partner in 2007.

With years of previous experience in mechanical engineering, Gopal retrained and now handles the sale of new build and converted residential developments as well as existing residential and commercial property sales and purchases, both freehold and leasehold.

He also deals with commercial lease renewals, both from the landlord and the tenant perspective, as well as residential lease extensions. Gopal's client base includes individuals, small business and companies, both UK and off shore.

Gopal also has experience of acquisitions of pharmacy and dental practices as going concerns, with a property element.

Gopal is also fluent in Gujarati and speaks some Hindi. His hobbies include playing the Scottish bagpipes as a member of a pipe band, which he has been perfecting for over 25 years, and teaching younger members of the community to play the instrument. In his spare time, he travels all over the world with the pipe band, helping to raise money for charity.
